Teachers To Tour Plants Today As Part Of Fifth Industry-Education Day

Thirty-eight teachers from Aycock School will tour White Oak Plant and 19 teachers from Caesar Cone School will tour Proximity Plant this afternoon as part of the Fifth Industry-Education Day, sponsored by Greensboro Industries, Inc.

During the morning and at lunch, representatives of Cone Mills visited the city schools.

Dr. McFarland Speaks

On Monday night teachers were guests of Greensboro Industries Inc. at a dinner at Plantation Supper Club where they heard the nationally famous speaker, Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kan., educational consultant for General Motors and the American Trucking Association.

Declaring that qualifications of leadership in teaching and industry are strikingly similar, Dr. McFarland told the group of teachers and industrial representatives that industry is just now learning what education learned 10 or 15 years ago, "That the handling of people is not a science."

Timberline Qualities

Entitling his address "Timberline," the inspirational speaker contrasted those who live in the sheltered valleys with those leaders "above the timberline where elements are tough to take."

He characterized those leaders as people with almost fierce self-reliance, those who know that handling of people is not done by a formula and who have that great "balance wheel" of personality which comes from deep religious convictions.

Need Superior Weapons

Dr. McFarland urged the government to develop superior weapons.

WILLING BLOOD DONORS—William O. Presnell, maintenance man for Cone Mills Laboratory building, and Worth Smith, former employee of White Oak Plant, last week donated a pint of blood each at the Red Cross Bloodmobile for persons like their mother-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Mitchell of Brown Summit, who was undergoing surgery at the time. Mrs. W. B. Martin is the Red Cross hostess shown here. Blood donations are needed to supply the need in the Greensboro area.

PRESENTATION—Jane Perkins of Brown Summit, member of the Rankin 4-H Club is shown presenting a 4-H souvenir emblem to Caesar Cone, treasurer of Cone Mills Corporation and president of Greensboro Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cone addressed the Northwestern District 4-H group on Recognition Day, October 30 at Woman's College. Mr. Cone challenged the farm youth to become aware of the economic changes and opportunities in their area. He cited the eastward movement of the cattle industry and the westward movement of cotton. He explained that Cone Mills has to some extent followed cotton westward by establishing a plant in Texas.

WHITE OAK SUGGESTION—Shown above is Henry Houston, employed in the Finishing Department at White Oak Plant, who recently suggested an improved spring and ratchet pawl for the counter mechanism on the folders in the cloth room. It will help prevent the counter from dipping, miscounting the yards and reduce the repair work. Mr. Houston received a cash award from Cone Mills Corporation for his idea.

Caesar Cone Speaks To Ministers' Group

"You represent the one organization, the church, which is our last defensive bastion in the American Way of life," declared Caesar Cone, treasurer of Cone Mills Corporation and president of Greensboro Chamber of Commerce when he spoke to the Textile Ministerial Association at a luncheon meeting at Proximity YMCA Wednesday.

"It is a basic fact that man must work to exist on earth, yet every civilization has had its false prophets who have tried to get mankind away from that theme," said Mr. Cone.

The speaker referred to the many ancient civilizations which had failed because people had become too soft and too secure.

"I am fearful, he went on to say, that as Americans get more affluent and depend too much on material possessions, the preaching of the ministers in the churches is falling on too many ears that do not listen," he declared.

"The more powerful we get city-wise, state-wise and federal-wise, the more we are going the way of the lost civilizations. Theoretically, many of the measures advocated today are sound for the masses but are not basically good for the individual."

There were no planners to organize and set up the American system before the first settlers came over here. Those first settlers were in search of spiritual freedom and were willing to find it the hard way.

Every law passed for the benefit of society as a whole, takes away something from the individual, and that is not the principle upon which this country was founded.

All of the organized government securities are diametrically opposed to the religion of the American people.

The more people work for easier living the harder it is for ministers (Continued on page 4)

Tabardrey Has Million Man Hour Safety Record

Sometime during the working day of November 1, Tabardrey Plant of Cone Mills Corporation completed its one millionth man hour since the last lost time accident in the plant. With the accomplishment of this outstanding safety record, Tabardrey became the second plant in modern Cone history to work such a long period without time lost due to accidents, and the second to earn the Cone 1,000,000 man-hour safety award.

Storyteller Thrills Entre Nous Club

Entre Nous Club members listened last Friday with the interest of children to the telling of fairy tales by Mrs. Eleanor Hawkins, of the Greensboro Public Library staff and story teller on "Tell a Story Time" on WFMV-TV each week.

Prior to the story telling Mrs. Jane Winston, case worker for the Children's Home Society, discussed the work of the society. She was introduced by Miss Nell Walker, projects chairman who announced that the club is now typing addresses on envelopes for the Children's Home Society and asked the members to volunteer in stuffing them.

It was voted that each member bring 50 cents each to the next meeting in order to purchase gifts for shut-ins.

Mrs. Polly Medearis led the devotional basing her remarks on Romans 14.

Mrs. Hawkins discussed the importance of books in the lives of children and noted that children of Greensboro are now more than ever checking out books, records and films from the Public Library. She told stories from "The Ragman of Paris," "Homer Price," and the "Seller of Dreams."

There are 18½ million home gardens in the U.S. today.

Tabardrey employees, who are currently working about 16,000 man hours per week, needed 17 months to accumulate "their first million." This is a fairly long period for any plant to work without even one disabling injury. Only Power Plant, Randleman Plant, and Cone Mills electricians have worked a longer period although none of these accumulated even close to 1,000,000 man hours. Print Works Plant worked about 1,400,000 man hours between February and November of 1952 and received the first Cone Mills 1,000,000 Man Hour Safety award.

Tabardrey Plant was also the winner of the Cone Third Quarter Accident Prevention Contest for both 1953 and 1954. A plaque was recently awarded the plant for this achievement. Randleman Plant was also awarded a plaque for winning among the smaller Cone units in this yearly contest.

Other Cone Plants with outstanding accumulations of time without lost time accidents are Edna Plant, Reidsville, with 457,493 man hours; Revolution Rayon Plant, Greensboro, with 369,079 man hours; and Randleman Plant, Randleman, with 286,913 man hours. Although accumulating only 163,451 man hours, Power Plant has worked since late March of 1953 without a lost time injury.

Research has proved that New Orleans molasses is second only to liver as a source of "available" iron—which means iron the body absorbs from the food we eat and puts to use to help make good red blood.

Not That Big

In a speech released by Senator McCarthy prior to its delivery before the United States Congress, the Senator from Wisconsin had the following to say: "If I lose on the censure vote, it follows of course that someone else wins. Now I ask the American people to consider carefully: Who is it that wins?"

In considering the Senator's question we have come to a conclusion which is far different from the conclusion reached by Senator McCarthy. It is our opinion that a censure vote by the United States Congress should not, and we believe will not, afford comfort to the Communists. We do not believe that it will have the effect of preventing a relentless campaign being conducted in the United States against Communist infiltration.

We do feel, however, that such a censure vote should serve as a guide as to the proper way to proceed along American lines to ferret out Communists in government and elsewhere.

If Senator McCarthy wanted to effectively continue a campaign against Communism in this country he certainly has a wonderful opportunity at this time to build up a reputation as being a big man with statesmanlike qualities by admitting that some of his methods and procedures have not been to the best interest of this country and that he intends to continue his program but along lines which are consistent with fair play and good Americanism. In other words, what we are trying to say is that the Senator really has an opportunity of a lifetime, but we are quite sure from his speech that he is going to muffle the ball and kill his effectiveness.

If he were to pursue a wise course and admit that he had been in error in some of his procedures and methods, he could gain the confidence and influence of good Congressmen and Senators who are as much interested in combatting Communism as is McCarthy. He could also secure for himself the respect and confidence of a lot of good American citizens who at this time are opposed to him.

As we have stated before, McCarthy did serve a useful purpose at one time when there was a tendency to "be soft towards Communism," but the complexion of matters has changed appreciably and we sincerely hope that neither the Administration nor anyone else with leadership authority will revert to the "red herring" idea in connection with Communism.

It takes a big man to admit errors and mistakes. We are afraid that the Senator from Wisconsin isn't that big.

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be using almost 300 million more tons of coal than it did in 1950, according to the Sixteenth Semi-Annual Report of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The National Association of Manufacturers cites this source in pointing out that the nation's coal consumption will be about 815 million tons in 1975. This compares with 522 million tons in 1950. The Increase will develop complementary to similar increases in use of petroleum and natural gas.

Increased research into the chemical uses of coal will aid this expected increase. Coal chemistry already has released components for aspirin, cortisone, dyes for textiles, DDT, livestock feed, lucite and other plastics, and many more products.

Health For All

The Right To Choose

You look out the window and watch your teenager hurry off to school with his books under his arms. What will he choose to be when he grows up? "Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief, tinker, tailor, soldier, sailor—" On the surface he seems to be thinking only about football and girls, but underneath he's probably giving serious thought to his future.

In our country, a boy doesn't have to follow in his father's footsteps unless he wants to. There are thousands of different kinds of work to choose from, and he has a right to choose the kind that will give him most satisfaction. But it takes more than just choosing. It takes ambition, education, and experience. And it takes good health to be able to get that education and experience and to follow a career successfully. This is one part of his preparation for the future where you can really help.

One of the enemies that could prevent him from making a free choice of a career is tuberculosis. TB no longer kills young people at the terrifying rate it did in the past, but it attacks thousands every year. And when it attacks it may mean not only a long period of treatment. It may also mean a new way of life to prevent a recurrence of the disease. If TB strikes, your boy may no longer be able to follow the calling of his choice, if it requires too much physical strain. TB is caused by a germ. A healthy body can usually fight the invading germs to a standstill. You can help your boy keep well by seeing that he eats properly and gets enough sleep, rest, and exercise in the fresh air.

Despite precautions, a heavy invasion of TB germs may defeat the body's defenses, and tuberculosis may begin its slow and silent development. Since TB has no warning symptoms in its early stages, it is harder to find before it has done serious damage than some other diseases. Doctors advise young people over 15 to have a chest X-ray once a year to make sure that TB doesn't get a head start. Your boy may think it's "sissy stuff" to go for a medical check-up when he feels perfectly well. You can persuade him that a few minutes in a doctor's office now isn't much to pay to help his dreams for the future come true.

Misses Nancy Williamson and Janice Tripp were honored on Sunday morning at the Haw River Methodist Church with a special service for Girl Scouts. Many close games were bowled this week at the Proximity and White Oak Y.M.C.A.'s, with many games decided by only a few pins.

The main attraction of the week was the match between White Oak Y's Men and Proximity Plant, the first and second place teams in the league. Every record of the season was broken in this match Tuesday night. White Oak Y's Men had high team game, to set a new season mark of 549, to best Proximity's old high of 532.

Proximity Plant had 1544 pins to break their old mark for high team set, but only won one of the three game set.

W. T. Andrews had 352 pins for high individual set to beat his teammate "T" Seawell's 336. High individual game was set twice this week with Will Marshburn's 130, which stood only one night, and Howard Smith's 133.

ment to stop compromising America's principles with the Reds and declared that an "absolute superiority of weapons" by the United States is the only hope for the free world.

"We must not be lulled to sleep by peaceful co-existence; we must not let tax reduction, a balanced budget or anything else stand between us and absolute superiority of weapons, the only hope of the free world," he declared.

"The Reds violate every moral in the book," he said. "We must not set ourselves up so that we can be destroyed. We must keep stronger than they and give them time to die."

Dr. McFarland quoted a statement made in 1930 by Maulitsky, a Communist leader, at the International Congress of Soviet Youth in Moscow:

"War to the hilt between communism and capitalism is inevitable.

Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win, we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep.

Hit When Guard Is Down

"So we shall begin launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The stupid capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clinched fist."

Dr. McFarland recalled the plans of Adolph Hitler at which the world at one time scoffed but actually saw almost reach its goal. The speaker reminded the audience that it could happen just as the Communist predicted.

"We can't outlaw war until the people who would start it know that they will be personally destroyed," he stated.
